WAYNE

From the bottom to the top,

Wayne watched us when we'd flop.

Picked us up, wouldn't let us stop.

Always acted like our pop!

Stood out in wind, and in rain,

Let it beat each window pane.

Weathered our losses, and helped us gain.

Yes, my friends, that's dear old Wayne.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

I can hardly wait until 4 P. M. That is when I start on my FREE trip to any place in the United States. Wasn't it lucky that I was chosen to appear on that popular quiz show "$64,000 Dollar Question?"

At 4 o'clock I started out on a T. W. A. to find the members of the Class of "56" whom I hadn't seen in 10 years.

I settled in one of the seats. Just before take-off the stewardess came down the aisle; I saw that it was Sally Jo Eley, one of the girls of the class of "56". She told me she would meet me in the waiting room of the airport as soon as I landed. I landed in Bloomington about 11:45 A. M. Sally Jo, her fiance the pilot of the plane, and I went to lunch. I chatted for about an hour; then I bid her a fond adieu, promising to write and tell her about the rest of her chums.

The next stop was at the Wantz airport in Harrisville, Indiana. There I stopped and visited with Dick, Shirley and their six children for a while. As I was driving at the edge of Union City I saw an elevator reading "Bill Wasson and Sons". I stopped and chatted with them awhile. He informed me that he had married just 3 years after leaving Wayne. He had married the beauty queen of all the colleges of the United States.

The next stop was the bank, since I was getting low on funds. The girl who cashed my check was Virginia Mangas. I visited with her for a while. She told me that she was the head teller of the bank and had married the president of the bank who was tall, dark, and handsome; some said he looked like Tony Curtis. Lucky Girl!

As I was walking down the street I saw a familiar lady with six children running behind. When I got closer I saw it was the former Ardella Grindle. She had made good as a telephone company manager and was now on her way to be a success in music. She had changed her name; they now called her the "Copper Coated Throat of Music." She had really become a success.

I saw Ben McKnight and he invited me to his restaurant, "The McKnight Club" where he was the chef. He told me that Kent Peacock had become a successful farmer. Kent had a charming wife who handled all the money. After I had gone down the street for about a block I came to a sign which said "Madame Bettee's Beautee Salon". So, out of curiosity to see if it was my old school mate, Betty Welsh, I stopped in. Sure enough it was. We gabbed and gabbed about this and that until our vocal chords almost gave out. While I was there Betty's old girl friend, Phyllis Williamson, came in to get her hair set, and we found out that she was a Home Ec. teacher at Peru, Indiana.

In the beauty shop I picked up a newspaper and saw a very interesting article about the legislature. There I saw Congress was in session, and it said that one of the filibusterers, Leland Mote, had been filibustering for several days straight.

After I left the Salon, I ran into Ray Turner selling bermuda shorts for Ed Cornell's in Greenville, Ohio. I chatted with him for awhile and found out he had just finished serving a 10 year hitch in the navy.

He informed me thar Gary Ketron had become the successful Secretary of Agriculture and was introducing more bills for the farmers than ever before. He also told me that Floyd Whistler had become the Chief-Assistant to the Assistant of the Assistant of the National Wholesalers of America.

I started down the street in the opposite direction, when I saw a sign which said, "Love Counsellor". One of my friends had been having trouble along this line so I went in to speak to the counsellor, and much to my surprise, there sat Joan Powers, the one and only.

I chatted with her for awhile and he told me that the former Peggy Welsh had gone to Moody Bible Institute and was not in South America working with her husband, Jerry Hueber.

Then I went back to the Wantz Airport and started on my way home, thus, ending my trip to see my former class mates.

CLASS HISTORY

In 1944, we the Seniors of 1956, started our daring climb in the submarine, "The Waynette". Our aim was the height of Above and Beyond Success.

Enthusiastically we started from the vivid colored floor of the roaring ocean. Our small but willing crew consisted of the following: Leland Mote, Phyllis Williamson, Raymond Turner, Joan Powers, Virginia Mangas, Sally Eley, Peggy Welsh, Ben McKnight, and last, but far from least, Bill Wasson.

Our first stop was the breath-taking city of Seafoam. There we obtained three students for the second year. First was our robust and rowdy, Dick Wantz, who came for West Side; then was Kent Peacock, who was tall and stout, hailing McKinley; last was Ardella Grindle, whom we found to be very lively and yet dainty. She came from Jackson, Indiana.

At the next port, which is called Bluewater, we stopped for fuel. There while we waited, a new member joined our crew. Her name was Wanda Moore and she came from Richmond, Indiana. She entered in the fourth year. She seemed to be very talkative and quick tempered.

We were all disappointed when Peggy went for a swim and failed to return. We soon found out that she had found her way to Green Township in another part of our underwater county, during our fifth year. She enjoyed her trip but seemed very glad to be returning to our crew in our freshman year. While gone, she added many inches to her height and gained a cute sneeze.

When we reached the top of the ocean we were just half way toward our aim. We immediately saw a row boat with three persons aboard. First was a dashing young lad by the name of Gary Ketron. Next was dark-haired and brown eyed Betty Welsh, and last was Floyd Whistler, who was short and full of laughter.

Whether or not we make it to Above or Beyond Success is now up to us. The sky is the limit. Wayne has done its best to help us in our perilous flight. Now we hope that each one makes it Above and Beyond Success.

CLASS WILL

I, Peg Welsh, will to Margaret Mote my ability to sneeze and disturb the study hall willed to me by Joyce Welch; Joyce Ingle my nickname Gertie willed to me by Lois Furgason.

I, Bill Wasson, will to Bill Thornburg my first semester Government Exam which has all the correct answers; Jim Thornburg my old nickname BABY FACE.

I, Betty Welsh, will to Bessie Baker my senior admirer; Sharon Brewer my nickname of George.

I, Kent Peacock, will to Richard Norris and Max Carpenter my ability to get along with the teachers; Tom Whitesel my nickname of L. B.

I, Gary Ketron, will to Judy Bowman my ability to go steady with a mate for one year; Miss Niedenthal my past, present, and future life history.

I, Ben McKnight, will to Jim Smith my ability not to go with girls; my bookeeping books to anybody.

I, Floyd Whistler, will to Judy Bowman my nickname of Shorty; Bob Hiatt my old torn up notebook.

I, Leland Mote, will to the present Freshman boys my extra large notebook to hide comic books therein; the seventh grade boys my ability to pester the girls without angering them.

I, Richard Wantz, will to Charles Williamson my place of washing dishes at a farm sale; Pete Mote my ability to go with a girl and not get sick afterwards.

I, Ray Turner, will to Bud Carpenter my ability to drive a car; Mr. Anderson my ability to coach.

I, Sally Eley, will to Janice Schultz my pencil for next year; Jim Smith my paper so he won't have to borrow anybody else's.

I, Ardella Grindle, will to Ronald Norton my ability to tell one coat from another; Erna Spille my ability not to worry about flames.

I, Joan Powers, will to Judy Ketron my ability not to read other peoples' love letters; Margaret Mote my will power to get up and go! go! go!

I, Virginia Mangas, will to Freshman girls my ability to stay out of arguments; Peggy Frazier my ability not to worry about boy friends.

I, Phyllis Williamson, will to Pat Blizzard a neck scarf; next year's Senior Class the best of luck.

CLASS POEM

Seniors, I guess that's us, and so we have the fuss and muss
We have eight boys who are too big for toys, seven girls who try to quiet the noise!

Now Peg's a cute one, and smart too, although at times she's rather blue.
It's a preacher she's after, his name is Jerry. In their life together we know they won't tarry.

Phyllis is conservative and set in her ways, although she sometimes goes around in a daze.
A teacher she'll be, she knows how it pays and we wish her "good luck" no matter how long she stays.

Well here is another and Ardella is her name, she maybe tiny and just a little lame,
But that didn't stop her from getting in the game, she got her a fellow just the same.

Betty is the one with the dark brown eyes, maybe in a beauty contest she would win no prize,
But since she is about the right height and size, she's bound to take some boy by surprise!

Joan is the muscles of the girls in our class, although in Shorthand she isn't too fast
Catching a man to her is no task, she'll get one even if she has to ask!

Timid and quiet comes Sally at last, but when she drives a car you hear other horns blast.
She goes extra slow not too fast, as you all know this saves the gas!

Gary is a captain on this planet, he has made a strong ship out of granite.
We wonder if he'll be able to man it, since his crew consists of only Janet.

Leland we have heard could be a professor, when he hears a boy sneeze he'll say "God Bless Her!"
No one knows who could be his successor, if you know the answer, then your a good guesser!

Here is a gent who's handsome they say, although at times some folks thing he plays,
He's always working in round-about ways, this could be no other than our Ray.

Short and muscular now is Ben, he chased the girls when he was only ten,
Although he isn't very thin, who wants to look like Errol Flynn.

Robust and roudy Dick is our man, he fits into just about any plan,
He'll always win if he possible can, because he eats his "Kellog's Corn Bran."

Floyd is almost as short as they come, he's steadfast and ready, not like some,
He won't drink whiskey or even rum, we know he'll pull through, and not be a Bum.

Guess who's next?---Well it's Bill, a farmer he'll be, the soil he will till,
The food he consumes fill him up to the gill, he digests anything without even one pill.

Here's another big fellow, we'll give you a hint, he can park a car without a dent,
He likes his girls to have a heavenly scent, you guessed it right, his name is Kent.

Now you have met our happy crew, and if any refuse us it will be but few.

The Juniors worked extremely hard at their money-raising projects since, together with the Senior Class, they had to raise enough money to pay for their trip East to Washington, D. C., New York City and Niagara Falls.

They collaborated with the Seniors in selling the concessions at all of Wayne's home basketball games and sponsoring roller skating parties at Deerfield's rink.

"The Darling Brats", a comedy in three acts was presented on April 13, 1956, with the whole class taking parts in it. Everyone thought it was very well done and extremely hilarious.

Secretary-Treasurer	Betty Welsh
Reporter	Jim Smith

The Student Council members under the leadership of our advisor, Mrs. Barker, set dates for the Assembly Convocations of each class. We wish to thank the classes for going along with us and doing their best.

Through selling Christmas jewelry, we cleared a nice profit and used it to sponsor the High School Christmas Party which was held on December 22 in the Home Economics room.

We also sponsored publishing the class news in the Winchester and Union City papers.

GIRLS' CHORUS

FIRST ROW: Janice Schultz, Peggy Frazier, Shelba Conklin, Judy Bowman, Phyllis Williamson, Joyce Ingle, Carol Kaugher. BASKETBALL

On the night of February 23, 1956, the end of another season of basketball finished for the Wayne Tigers. This was one of the poorest seasons the Tigers had experienced in years, but no one can deny that they were always trying and fighting for victory.

Also on this night in February came the close of five boys high school basketball careers. Bill Wasson, Gary Ketron, Dick Wantz, Ray Turner, and Kent Peacock will pick up their diplomas in May.

It seems like luck just turned away from the Wayne club this year. All year they were hampered with the lack of gymnasium for practice, and injuries. But with all of these things against them the boys kept going, fighting and trying with every ounce of effort to bring glory to good old Wayne High. Maybe they didn't bring her a winning season, but just the same these boys and their coach deserve a big hand for the effort they did put forth.

WAYNE TIGERS SECOND TEAM

This year proved to be a building year for our second team. With all of the boys being inexperienced, this year proved to be a year for gaining confidence. With these boys the hopes for a successful future rides.

TRACK

The track team will open its season in March under the guidance of Coach Bob Anderson. It is hoped that this season will be a profitable one for our team. They will be entered in several meets including the county meet, which is in April.

BASEBALL
